

TRACTIFY — COLD CALL CHEAT SHEET

1 OPENERS — First 5 Seconds

Specific intel opener (BEST — use this first)	"I looked up [Business] before calling — your website is serving gambling content now. Someone bought your old domain. Did you know that?"
No website opener	"You've got [X] five-star reviews but no website. Every customer who Googles you finds nothing."
Voicemail/called before opener ■	"I've actually tried reaching you a couple times — and honestly that's kind of why I'm calling. If I'm struggling to get through, how many customers gave up and called someone else?"
Permission opener	"I'll be straight — this is a cold call. I'll keep it under a minute. Fair?"

2 INSTANT SHUTDOWNS — Recover Before They Hang Up

"Are you with marketing?" ■ NEW — memorize this	"No — I actually called because I found something specific about your business. Takes 30 seconds — can I tell you what I found?"
"I'm not interested" (before you've said anything)	"Totally fair — I'd just take 20 seconds. I found something about [Business] specifically that I think you'd want to know."
Hangs up immediately	Don't call back same day. Text instead: "Sorry to miss you — found something about [Business] worth a look. Can I send it over?"

3 OBJECTIONS — Mid-Call Comebacks

"Don't need a website / been fine without one"	"Word of mouth is great. But you're the one answering every call, right? Every job you're on a roof — that call goes to voicemail. That customer doesn't wait. They Google the next guy."
"I already have a website"	"I know — I looked at it. That's actually why I'm calling." [name the specific flaw]
"We get all our work from referrals"	"Referrals are gold. But when they Google you to verify you're legit before calling — what do they find?"
"I'm too busy right now"	"That's the best problem to have. This is for when things slow down — and they always do."
"How much does it cost?"	"Nothing right now — I'm doing two free buildouts for case studies. That's why I'm calling you specifically."
"Send me some info"	"I could, but an email won't show you anything. Can I send you a link to the live demo instead — takes 30 seconds to see it?"
"Not looking for an app"	"It's not an app they download — it's a booking link. They pick a time, it goes on your calendar. No phone tag."
"I have to take every call myself — I don't know how long jobs will take" ■	"That's exactly the problem I'm solving. Right now if you're on a job that runs long, customers can't reach you and they move on. With this, you set your available time slots — Tuesday 2pm, Thursday 10am, whatever works for you. Customers pick from what you have open. You're still controlling your schedule, you're just not stuck by the phone."
They have a voice agent (auto-attendant) ■	"I noticed you have a voice agent — so you already know missed calls cost you jobs. The difference with what I'm building is customers don't just leave a message, they actually book a time slot right there. No callback needed."

4 CLOSES — Moving Them Forward

Case study close	"I'm not gonna charge you, ever. The only catch is I can use the results as proof for other contractors. You in?"
Demo text close	"Do you have two minutes? I'll text you a link right now — fill it out yourself and see what your customers would see. Can I send that now?"
Scarcity close	"I only have two free spots open. Are you someone who wants to move on this or should I keep going down my list?"
Mock-up offer (lukewarm prospects)	"Let me build a one-page mock of what your site could look like. No commitment. If you hate it, you never hear from me again."

5 GOLD LINES — Drop These Anywhere

- ★ I called 6 HVAC companies this morning. One picked up. Are you the one that picked up, or are you the five that didn't?
- ★ Your customers are doing the same thing I just did — and when they can't reach you, they don't call back. They Google the next guy.
- ★ You've got [X] five-star reviews. That's years of earned trust. Your website should close the deal. Right now it's doing nothing.
- ★ Every call you miss while you're on a roof — that job went to someone else.
- ★ Word of mouth built your business. A booking link keeps it from leaking.
- ★ A voice agent is a fancy voicemail. Customers still can't book — they still have to wait for you to call back. That's the gap.
- ★ I'm not selling you software. I'm handing you booked appointments.

6 CALL FLOW — 3-Minute Map

0:00–0:15	Opener with specific intel. Get a laugh or a reaction.
0:15–0:45	One question: are you the one taking every call yourself? Let them answer.
0:45–1:30	Drop the bottleneck pain point. Sit on it. Then pivot to the product in one sentence.
1:30–2:00	Case study offer. Be honest — you need the proof, they get it free.
2:00–2:30	Ask to send the demo link right now. Get a yes while they're on the phone.
2:30–3:00	Confirm number for text. Thank them. Get off the phone.

7 AFTER THE CALL

Verbal yes — send demo	Text within 5 minutes: demo site link + spam warning text
No answer / voicemail	Log it. Call again Day 5. Use voicemail-as-pain-point opener when they pick up.
Voicemail word to avoid ■	Never say "system" — it sounds like software and triggers resistance. Say: "something that lets customers book with you directly when they can't get through on the phone."
Texted back / not now	Reply: "No worries — I'll try you again tomorrow." Then do it.
"Are you with marketing?" callback	Immediate redirect: "No — found something specific about your business. 30 seconds?" Don't pause.

Spam warning text

"You'll get a confirmation email from bookings@tractifyhq.com — if you don't see it, check spam and mark not spam."
